WOLF-Garten – LI-ION Power RR 3000

Garden Secateurs with Power

Fully Automated Power Tool – Not just for the Pros!

Blackberries, roses, vines, perennials – sometimes the seemingly endless task of pruning can test the strength of even the most enthusiastic gardener. Motor-powered secateurs have been available – but only for commercial use. Now LI-ION Power RR 3000 garden secateurs are on the market. WOLF-Garten again takes innovative steps to kit out its customers with the best gardening tools designed to keep everything in trim.

The amateur gardener used to depend on his own strength to prune back unruly plants. Some secateurs were automated, but were mainly for pros, and too expensive. The equipment was not suitable for the home-based amateur gardener. But landscaping at home increasingly calls for better equipment. Tools should be lightweight and easy-to-use, so the product reaches a wider target group.

The RR 3000 garden secateurs live up to all these requirements – for a maximum branch diameter of 15 mm, this battery-operated garden tool can perform 400 pruning actions. And the blades are top quality – as you'd expect from WOLF garden secateurs. For stable use and with soft grip for secure handling. The RR 3000 is reliable to use and perfect pruning jobs are light work.
