WOLF-Garten – Amenity Lawn

Ideal for playing

Lush Green for the whole Family

Whether Bobbycar racing or football training, this lawn is fantastically suited for romping around. The amenity lawn by WOLF-Garten is a hard-wearing all-rounder, which thrives on almost all types of soil.

Mum is playing badminton with dad, short stops and quick starts. The little one is in his first Bobbycar race and his brother has invited some friends for a kick about. Everyone is racing around on the amenity lawn by WOLF-Garten, which is shining in its lush greenness, even though it is put under high pressure every day.

Such a lawn surface has to put up with a lot. The mechanical stresses and strains are enormous. These are combated with the help of a dense carpet of grass, which copes with the exertion and is in the position to regenerate quickly. The amenity lawn fills precisely these requirements for a new lawn.

The seed mix is especially designed for intensive use and is fantastically resilient. The high lawn density with about 70,000 shoots per square metre is impressive. And Keim-Fix from the in-house development department ensures up to 30% faster germination in comparison with conventional mixtures. In addition, the WOLF-Garten germination guarantee is provided for the product.

Despite these special capabilities, up to 30% less grass clippings are accumulated in comparison with cheap seed. The amenity lawn can be sown between May and October.
