From WOLF-Garten and award-winning:

Powerful light electric chain saws

Simple chain tensioning and automatic lubrication

The electric chain saws from WOLF-Garten are still brand new and they have already been awarded the Plus X Award. They convince with their ergonomic design, operating comfort and high quality. Thanks to their low weight, they can be used anywhere.

There is a lot to cut around the house: fruit trees, shrubs or the entwining vine. You can't do much there without a chainsaw. But, it doesn't always have to be a loud chain saw with a rattling motor. If a power supply is available, the electric chain saw is a good choice.

Especially, when it is from WOLF-Garten. The CSE 2035 and CSE 2240 models have recently been awarded the Plus X Award in the categories: High Quality, Innovation and Operating Comfort.

The ergonomic design is among the excellent features of both tools. They differ in the length of their blades – 35 and 40 centimetres. The larger model is equipped with a 2200 Watt motor, the smaller with 2000 Watt. The power transfer to the chain is more than a match for any piece of wood. Whether it is thick branches or entire trunks, the saw can take them all on. They weigh a mere 4.5 kilos each and are both real power packs.

The chain can even be tightened without additional tools. That is important to ensure optimal cutting results and to prevent the rotating chain with sharp teeth from becoming dislodged.

Press Release

The hand guard on the ergonomically shaped handle prevents dangerous injuries in case something should happen. The lubrication of the chain with oil functions automatically, thus stopping it becoming hot and blunt. This avoids dreaded "chain suck". Design and functionality are well-combined with the WOLF-Garten electric chain saws.
