New from WOLF-Garten

Collect surplus leaves in no time at all

Electro- and petrol devices

Dead foliage must be cleared from the garden at least after the first storms of autumn. A lawn covered with leaves could result in fungal attack. And wet leaves can turn grounds into slippery surfaces. The new WOLF-Garten leaf blowers make your task easier. No laborious raking up, no bending and no effort thanks to the ergonomic wheel support.

The new WOLF-Garten leaf blowers do not only remove leaves, they can also be converted for use as a vac, shraed leaves to a tenth of the volume and collect them in the large collector bag for easy disposal. In addition, the devices are fitted with a rake for easy collection of the leaves.

The ergonomic wheel support simplifies use and transport after the work has been completed. The handles are ergonomically shaped and have a lever to switch easily between vacuuming and blowing.

The LBV 2600 E electro leaf blower is fitted with a 2,600 Watt motor that produces an air speed of up to 270 km/h and achieves a vacuuming/blowing volume of up to 16 m³ per minute. The collecting sack holds 50 litres – equivalent to 3.9 kg in weight.

The LBV 2500 B petrol leaf blower is fitted with a 0.75 kW 2Takt-Motor that produces an air speed of up to 175 km/h and achieves a
